Roland Gardens, South Kensington

£1,395,000

Set within an elegant period building on the sought-after Roland Gardens, this impressive first-floor apartment presents a rare opportunity to acquire a beautifully proportioned home in the heart of South Kensington, one of London's most prestigious neighbourhoods.

The property is distinguished by its exceptional sense of space and grandeur, highlighted by remarkable 3.39-metre ceilings and a wealth of original architectural detailing. Delicate cornicing and decorative ceiling roses lend an air of classic elegance, while large sash windows bathe the interiors in natural light and enhance the apartment's refined period character.

Currently arranged as a generously sized one-bedroom residence, the accommodation centres around a beautifully proportioned reception room, where an elegant fireplace forms a charming focal point and provides an ideal setting for both relaxation and entertaining. The principal bedroom is
